

Reach a Captive Audience at the Romeo Theatre!

The movies have thrilled and captivated us since the first black and white images were projected to amazed audiences. There is nothing quite like the experience of watching a movie on the big screen.

Now your business can become part of the action by advertising on the same big screen with all the impact of a feature film!

Imagine delivering your message to a theater full of customers several times per day, every day. This unique form of captive advertising is available right here, right now from Cinemagic Digital. We offer multiple packages designed to fit your budget and deliver results.

The process is simple. Choose your advertising package and we will do the rest. Our talented production company will design a commercial exclusively for you. No cookie cutter approach here... simply high quality production designed to meet your goals and objectives. Your ad can also be used for broadcast or cable television!

If you are tired of poor results from traditional media, ask us about advertising with Cinemagic Digital.

Best of all, your business can get this innovative advertising for a lot less than you might think.

What are you waiting for? It could be your business, reaching thousands of moviegoers.
